Few People Have Eyes Alike.

Fifty-nine-tenths of those who wear Glasses have different vision in each eye. Some have it a decided difference, in others only a slight variation. A careful examination will fail to bring out this defect—the same lenses would be adjusted to each eye separately, select proper lenses, adjust glasses to suit both eyes from a complete Test Case as is made.

No extra charge for testing the eyes. Gold Spectacles, $3.00 to $5.00. If you are having any trouble with your eyes or head call and see if I can't relieve you.

do you eat iron

Some persons are always taking iron. If weak and easily exhausted; pale and without appetite; if the nervous system is weak and sleep difficult, what do you take? Iron? But iron cannot supply food to the tissues; nor does it have any power to change the activity of unhealthy organs and bring them back to health. Cod-liver oil is what you need. The oil feeds the poorly-nourished tissues, and makes rich blood. Iodine, bromine, and other ingredients, which form part of the oil, have special power to alter unhealthy action.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is the most palatable way to take cod-liver oil. The hypophosphites supply healthy nerve action, which controls all the processes of life.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been induced by the medical profession for twenty years past to prescribe it. This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 5 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure you, or help your baby. All druggists.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

HEARD AND READ.

Being a collection of penclings and scissings from our offices.

The secret of the enormous power to withstand cold that one observes in brakemen and other exposed persons, generally is, that they are thickly wrapped with newspapers. It only takes a few newspapers to exceed the warmth of a thick coat.

A successful case of cat surgery is reported from West Lynn. The pet cat in a family had the misfortune to be stepped upon by the master of the house and suffered a broken leg in consequence. The services of two physicians were called upon and the broken limb was bandaged.

The Bible has more than 100 references to fools, and the Bible does not waste space.

There is only one way to quit drinking. That is to quit. You can't quit by tapering off in anything. A fellow can't quit anything all at once and settle the thing right there and then.

The American (Gas) Times-Recorder is bound to lead the procession. It reports a rattlesnake eight feet long, and it is early in the season for snakes.

At Plongastel, in Brittany, all the weddings of the year are celebrated on one day. In February last 31 couples were married. The ceremony was very gay, all the brides and bridegrooms wearing Breton costumes, and walking in procession round the town.

None of us have more than an alternative. We must grow old or die. Most of us prefer to die. However, however, and gloomy age may appear to the young, it is not devoid of charms and pleasures.

Mr. Almeric Hugh Page, the Duchess of Marlborough and the Countess of Castellan are all devoted to bowling, and Miss Helen Gould has a fine bowling alley at her place in Lexington-on-the-Hudson.

The shoe industry in Stoughton has assumed a condition that is alarming alike to manufacturers and to tradesmen. The town is principally dependent on the shoe manufacturers, but on account of labor troubles and removals of prominent firms, very little money is being distributed in wages.

A Minnesota father of triplets has applied to the treasury department at Washington for information as to whether there is a fund from which bounties are paid for the encouragement of such additions to families.

A French girl, aged 14, at a Blairstown (N. J.) factory, the other day, it is said, when she gave her age as 14, was told that she must go to school. She angrily inquired if a married woman must go to school, and upon learning that she was married and had a child to support the agent gave her empurpled.

The fact that nearly 10 per cent of the ballot cast in the State of New York at the last election were thrown out as defective goes to show that the Australian ballot system is a good deal of a mystery.

It is a fact of almost universal application that we see the bright side of every other man's occupation, and seldom the dark side. The dark side of our own lives we clearly know, and we are quite apt to exaggerate the blackness we see to magnify the good another enjoys.

The fact that nearly 10 per cent of the ballot cast in the State of New York at the last election were thrown out as defective goes to show that the Australian ballot system is a good deal of a mystery.

Correspondence and news of all kinds are welcome. All regular readers of the Gazette. Every one knows some one interested in field or happiness that others would like to read about.

While we have an efficient corps of regular contributors, we have a much interest that in the regular columns there are not enough. Please send us your local paper and pride in your town lead off, and in making the Gazette more bright and newsy.

ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT WEYMOUTH, MASS., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, FEB. 26, 1897.

Next Monday for the two hundred and sixty-second time the voters of Weymouth will go to the polls and elect a representative for the ensuing year. As the present system has become a convenient matter and the importance of the election should bring out a large vote, in Wards 1, 3 and 4 there is no contest for the selectmen. In Wards 2 and 5 there are two candidates, and in Ward 6, three. One's guess until the ballots are counted. The other business of the town will come up a week later and the questions involved, appropriations to be made etc., are worthy of careful consideration of every citizen from now until the last ballot in the warrant shall have been acted upon.

We have received several communications upon political subjects which are signed with various incognito nom-de-plume. We do not know the names of the writers, but when a person or persons are attacked or their defeat is sought through published letters with no name, the writer must be responsible and be made to stand and prove the statements, if necessary, or stand the libel damage if any should result. As the paper does not care to fill the position of backer for everyone who wishes to defend some point, we will not do so, we only care to see the right side of the question. The publication of any article not backed up by the author's own name, this explanation will serve to make it clear to several correspondents why their articles were not printed this week.

The Town Warrant. The subscribers wish to counteract the effect of an article which appeared in the Boston Herald in regard to an alleged omission in the town warrant concerning the Jlist.

The Statutes of 1894 require the publishing of the Jlist as a part of the annual report and thus it becomes a part of that report. The omission is not serious and can properly be acted on under the article calling for reports of Town Officers.

Such splendid showings are always made in the annual statement of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, which is necessary to participate in any one of the great annual fairs. The fifty-first annual statement exhibit for 1896, now published, is no exception to the rule. It demonstrates the company's prosperity, showing gain in income, assets, dividends, and in the amount earned, and taken altogether, a decided amount of strength that surpasses any increase in liabilities. More than this, there was a decrease in the cost of insurance and the ratio of expenses to income that was an unusual feature of the statement, one-half of per cent. When we look at the receipts, nearly $9,000.00, the expenditures, $7,715.31, and the surplus, Jan. 1, 1897, of $7,153.27, we see how splendidly the company's affairs have been managed. A glance at the figures in the statement will clearly show this.

Die Siecle Minstrels.

At the church of the Sacred Heart, Weymouth, a great social event, the following talent will appear—W. H. Ward, interlocutor; A. F. Powers; John Ahern, E. L. Murphy, George Torrey, John Close, Thomas Martell, David Healy, John W. Hart, Jr., John Gouais, James Knox, Simon Clark, Michael Welch; Bonas, Wm. Murphy, John C. Murphy, John White, Tambo, D. F. Hart, Fred White, Henry J. Hart. Circle under direction of Eugene L. Murphy, accompanist; Miss Ella Riley.

An original and interesting programme will be given in two parts.

Court Item.

The district attorney has ordered that before the defendants in all appeal cases, all who are ripe for sentence, and where the results have not been returned, shall be called for plea or sentence on the first Monday following the report of the grand jury.

The appeal cases are called in order to ascertain how many of them are for trial. All defendants who do not respond when their case is called will be defaulted and cases will then be given up.

Grateful to Editors.

President Clark's Address.

It isn't once in a decade—or in a generation, for that matter—that a legislative session is made notable and memorable by the address of the speaker of the house. The speaker of the house, in this case, was Mr. Josiah Perkins, of Weymouth, and his speech was selected by many men who are not republicans, and if it is claimed that all who voted republicans, then we may be told that the good Lord has mercy on the Republican party of Weymouth.

Mr. Josiah Perkins.

Josiah Keith Perkins was born in Braintree and was the third child of the Rev. Mr. Perkins and Mrs. Maria Keith Perkins. A youth of unusual manhood was passed in this vicinity. He married Miss Hannah Kingman of Weymouth. An only son, the Rev. Sydney K. Perkins of West Springfield was the fruit of this marriage. He died of his wife Mr. Perkins for some years, lived with his son, died at his home after several weeks' illness on February 18.

Upon one of the Mattresses which we sell you, rest assured your rest will be easy.

Some of these mattresses are extremely low priced, but not "cheap" goods however. They are well made, and there is a total absence of ease destroying lumps. They are smooth and soft and just as well made as those costing more money. Of course these latter kind are of better material, Hair or Cotton Felt for instance, and cannot be surpassed. We have others which are of moderate price can be highly recommended as to quality.
